

Covenant During Covid*

During this unprecedented time in global history, Westmont community members have continually risen to the occasion, with students excelling in virtual classes, professors innovating how they teach, and staff finding novel ways to serve and reach our entire community. As Westmont prepares to welcome students, faculty and staff back to campus for in-person experiences, all community members will be expected to live and work by this Covenant during COVID and adhere to the following protocols to help ensure the health and safety of everyone on campus.

- 1 All community members will be required to adhere to all facets of the physical-distancing policy.
- 2 All community members working or studying on campus will be expected to conduct baseline COVID-19 testing.
- 3 All community members who work or study on campus will be expected to participate in at least one further COVID-19 test.
- 4 All community members (students, faculty and staff) intending to enter campus or leave their residence on campus will be required to complete daily symptom checks using a symptom-tracker app built and operated by the Office of Institutional Resilience.
- 5 All community members will be expected to participate in contact tracing if suspected or confirmed cases occur on campus.
- 6 All community members will be expected to participate in sanitizing shared spaces.
- 7 All community members will be expected to avoid putting the Westmont community at risk.
- 8 All community members will be expected to exhibit grace to one another and live and work in a Christ-like fashion as we navigate a difficult time.

Westmont counts on all community members to promote a healthy, safe, and respectful working environment by adhering to this Covenant during Covid. Repopulating the campus and hosting in-person classes for students can only occur with the cooperation of all Westmont community members. Thank you for your flexibility and all that you do as we continue Westmont's tradition of excellence.
